

Chapter 4 - Configuring Back Lab Burner for Image CD, Image DVD, and DVD Cinema Orders

If you would like to use Back Lab Burner to process Image CDs, Image DVDs, and/or DVD Cinema orders, you will need to make configuration changes in both Lab 50 and Back Lab Burner.

The initial steps are the following:

1. In Lab 50, enable the products you are going to be processing through Back Lab Burner. This is done through the product catalog.
2. In Lab 50, access the default settings to use for Back Lab Burner, and confirm the products you'd like to process have been checked off.
3. In Back Lab Burner, confirm the correct drive has been selected and specify your preferences on order retention, image viewing software to be included, and the location of the installed DVD Cinema content if it has been saved somewhere other than the default path.
