

Managing Orders

Lab 50 makes managing your lab easier by giving you a central location to collect all of your order information, membership plans, and marketing campaigns, while providing an open platform for matching products to your lab hardware.

The pages that follow in this chapter outline day-to-day operations such as photo downloading, editing, processing, and archiving. Use the right panel to jump to a specific topic, or click a keyword below to browse relevant pages.