

Lab 50 Version 7.5.1 will not install because the full version of .NET4 is not installed

If you encounter a problem installing Lab 50 and receive an error message that .NET4 is not installed, it may be because the Client Profile is installed rather than the Full Profile.

To check the current version running on your machine, simply access <http://www.smallestdotnet.com>.

In addition to displaying the current .NET versions installed on your machine, the website features links at the bottom of the page to download the update most appropriate for updating your store location(s).
